

Hello Molly, Jason here.

Hi. I was just going to call you. I was thinking we should have a meeting to discuss the promotion for the latest perfume range with the wholesales team.

How about getting everyone together on Thursday?

I'm afraid I can't make Thursday myself, but Friday would be good.

OK. I suggest we invite Peter too, and ask him to bring along some of his photos. We'll need at least four for the website.

Good idea. Maybe it would be worthwhile inviting Sally along from the PR agency, too. We could do with her advice on attracting customers better.

Well, let's keep our online discount? That seems to work OK, doesn't it?

I don't know about that. People come to our site once maybe, but they don't return to see what's new and to buy more.

Well, why don't we talk about it when we meet on Friday?

OK, I'll call Sally and Peter to see if they can make it and then send round an email to everyone to confirm times.

Thanks, Molly. Speak to you soon. Bye.
