

Hi, Bruce. It's Naomi here. I'm calling about the conference in Shanghai. We're going to have to make some changes.

Hi, Naomi. OK, hang on, let me get a pen. Right, fire away.

I don't think the Yangtze Garden will be big enough. We're going to need a center that can seat at least 600.

That many? Any suggestions?

The Mandarin Palace Center will be free that day. I've already spoken to them and I'm meeting the conference manager tomorrow. It'll mean increasing the registration fee by $50 though.

That won't be a problem. Anything else?

Alasdair Ross can't do the morning session as his plane doesn't land until 9:30, so I've arranged things with Jimmy Tan and they're going to switch slots. Also, Milan University say they're sending Carla Marisco because Professor Bertoni can't make it. But the talk will be the same.

Fine. Make those changes and I'll inform everyone at my end.
