

The New Vaudeville Band – Winchester Cathedral (1966)

The New Vaudeville Band was an English group created by songwriter Geoff Stephens in 1966 to record his song "Winchester Cathedral", a song inspired by the dance bands of the 1920s. To his surprise, the song became a hit, reaching the Top 10 in the UK and getting to No. 1 in the USA.

Winchester Cathedral
You're bringing me down
You stood and you watched as
My baby left town

You could have done something
But you didn't try
You didn't do nothing
You let her walk by

Now everyone knows just how much
I needed that gal
She wouldn't have gone far away
If only you'd started ringing your bell

Winchester Cathedral
You're bringing me down
You stood and you watched as
My baby left town

Oh-bo-de-oh-do, oh-bo-de-oh-do
Oh-bo-de-oh-do, do-do-duh
