

The Best Jobs in the World (?)

1. DISNEY IMAGINEER / ENGINEER

Estimated pay: $30,000-$130,000 per year

Location: North America & Asia

Job Description: You have to have some amazing ideas and then make them a reality at Disney amusement parks around the world. If you like to dream big and make millions of people happy, then this is the job for you.

2. PROFESSIONAL CUDDLER

Estimated pay: $30,000-$100,000 per year

Location: Anywhere you like

Job Description: The first professional cuddle café opened in Japan a few years ago - and they've already made their way across the ocean where most professional cuddlers work as freelancers. The job is exactly what it sounds like, people pay you to cuddle for up to an hour, so if you're a hugger and cuddler, this is your dream come true. There is even a convention for cuddlers, and they are working on a certification process.

3. PRIVATE ISLAND CARETAKER

Estimated pay: $15,000-$120,000 per year

Location: Far away from civilization

Job Description: As some super rich people sometimes buy private islands, there is a growing demand for "island caretakers". You spend your days in locations that others only dream of visiting - and you even get paid for it.

4. BEN & JERRY'S FLAVOR GURU

Estimated pay: $40,000-$200,000 per year

Location: United States

Job Description: In this job, you blend ice cream, candy, and syrup to make the perfect desserts. Then (of course) you have to "test" it! Sounds good? For some people, this would be the perfect job!

5. WATER SLIDE TESTER

Estimated pay: Around $26,000 per year

Location: Around the world

Job Description: This is one of those things that children love to do - but it's a real job. There is a little more to this job than just sliding. You must check the height, speed, water quantity and landing of the water slides. But between all the safety checks, there is a lot of time to have fun.

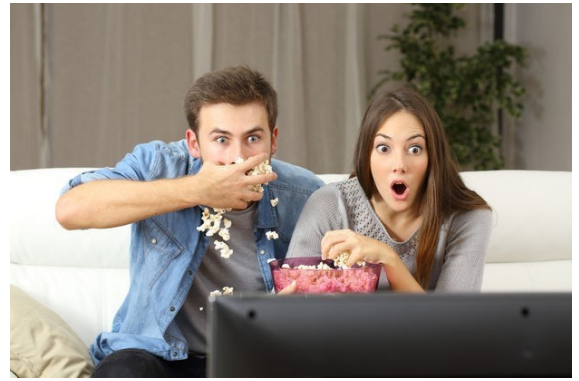

6. PROFESSIONAL NETFLIX WATCHER

Estimated pay: Around $20,000 per year

Location: At home

Job Description: Yes, there exists a small group of people who get paid to sit on the sofa all day and watch Netflix. The job is to look through massive amounts of shows and movies, and categorize them. If you've sometimes wondered how Netflix knows what you like, it is because of these people. If you like watching Netflix, this is the job for you.

7. LUXURY BED TESTER

Estimated pay: Around $20,000 per year

Location: Luxurious hotels around the world

Job Description: There are people who get paid to sleep in the most luxurious beds in the world and then report on their experience.

8. PROFESSIONAL TRAVELER

Estimated Pay: Around $50,000 per year

Location: Planet earth

Job Description: You can be on vacation forever if you are a professional traveler. Companies such as “The Lonely Planet” and “The Big Trip” look for candidates to be travel correspondents with all expenses paid, full health insurance and the salary mentioned above.

Source:

<https://www.goodnet.org/articles/8-best-jobs-in-world>

See also (unusual jobs):

<https://www.totaljobs.com/careers-advice/what-job-can-i-do/10-unusual-jobs>

The Worst Jobs in the World (?)

If you think that your job is bad, then the people in these images will help to put things in perspective. They have jobs that will make yours look like a dream.

1. INDIAN SEWER WORKER

This sewer worker wears no protection, and has to work in the sewer tunnel. His pay is relatively small, because he belongs to the lowest social cast in India. In contrast, sewer workers in developed countries receive good pay and have protective clothes.

2. DOG & CAT FOOD TESTER

Simon Allison says that he loves his job as a “dog and cat food tester” for Marks & Spencer, in the UK, but would you like to do that job? The pet food contains nothing that is harmful to humans, and dogs and cats cannot tell us whether the food is good or not, so we need a human who can tell us.

3. TARGET HOLDER

This soldier, in China, has to hold the target so that his comrades can use it for practise. You could argue that it is the worst job in the world, because it seems to be extremely dangerous!

4. ARMPIT SNIFFER

There are workers who are paid to sniff the armpits of volunteers as part of a quality control procedure for a brand of deodorant. If it is a good deodorant, then maybe it's not such a bad job!

5. ZOO VET

Vets who work in zoos have an extremely varied job. Some tasks are easy, some are dangerous and some are simply disgusting! In this photo, a vet is investigating an intestinal blockage in an elephant.

6. BULL EJACULATOR

As part of a breeding program for cattle, it is somebody's job to collect the sperm of bulls.

7. POWER LINE TECHNICIAN

In parts of China, the power lines are extremely disorganized, so it must be a very difficult job to fix problems when they occur. It must also be a very dangerous job.

8. OFFICE WORKER IN CHINA!

